Gentlemen:

I must confess that I was never more taken aback in my life than I was at the close of the Chamber of Commerce Lunch at the Taft last Saturday.

At the close of the Lunch a beautiful soprano voice launched into a solo. I was not surprised at that, but very much surprised as I looked around the room in vain for the soloist. I supposed of course that I would find the lady in the center of a group of men gathered at the rear end of the room. I was really astonished to find that the beautiful voice emanated from a phonograph. To sum it all up I must say that Edison's New Diamond Disc Phonograph is the "last word" in the rendition of vocal or instrumental music.

Respectfully yours, B. JEPSON.

Professor Jepson has been Supervisor of Music in the Public Schools of New Haven for nearly fifty years, and his opinion in musical matters is regarded with highest respect. He heard the Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph at the recent luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Taft and was very much impressed. The letter given explains itself.

The public schools close today for the spring vacation.

Miss Isabel Killackey of Cuba street is confined to her home with the grip.

Joseph H. Lowd of Bartlett street has recently purchased a new Maxwell car.

Misses Helen and Anna Holt spent Sunday and the holiday at Salisbury beach.

Fred Collins of North Main street has entered the employ of Myerscough & Buchan.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Russell of Summer street spent the holiday in Leominster.

Misses Annie and Katherine Donovan of Brook street are visiting friends in Washington, D. C.

Caroline J. Burt, a teacher in Malden, spent a few days of her vacation at her home on Lowell street.

James Putnam of Frye Village is very ill and is at present under the care of two specialists from Boston.

Miss Olive Cosgrove of West Somerville spent Sunday and Monday with her cousin, Mrs. Malcolm McTernan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon O. Duncklee spent the week end in Fairhaven with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry.

J. Warren Peeney, a student at Harvard University, is spending the week's vacation at his home in Scotland District.

Miss Helen Higgins of Jackson College returned Wednesday after spending the Easter vacation at her home on High street.

The Alert boys beat the All Saints' nine of Methuen by a score of 8 to 4, last Saturday afternoon on the Methuen Playstead.

Mrs. Bernard M. Allen of Bartlett street left Andover Tuesday as a delegate to the National Congress of Mothers at Washington.

Misses Josephine E. and Gertrude Mawn of Lowell spent the holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald of Lupin road.

Misses Catherine and Mary Nelson of Biddeford, Maine, are spending the week at the home of their uncle, James McDonald of Lupin road.

Principal Alfred E. Stearns of Phillips Academy gave an illustrated lecture on China before the Methuen Historical society last Monday evening.

William H. Montgomery of the U. S. A. Virginia, which sailed yesterday from Charlestown for Vera Cruz, spent Wednesday with friends in town.

Daniel A. Haggerty of Cambridge, the first to fall at Vera Cruz, was a nephew of John Haggerty, the well-known street supervisor in Ballardvale.

Miss Emma J. Lincoln is a delegate to the annual convention of the American Federation of Natural History Societies which is being held in Boston yesterday and today.

George T. Abbott, assistant postmaster in the local postoffice, suffered a severe attack of acute indigestion Monday afternoon, but is now resting comfortably at his home on Elm street.

Prof. Moorehead of the archaeology department of Phillips Academy took two classes up the Shawheen river on Wednesday to examine two Indian fortifications about a mile and a half above Ballardvale.

Myerscough & Buchan have added a new department to their already greatly increased business, that of making and repairing all sorts of automobile tops, slip covers and cushions. The most improved Singer sewing machine has been installed and Herbert Moses of Malden has been engaged to have charge of this branch of the work.

The marriage announcement has been made of Miss Mary Louise Slade Whitney to Percy Rice Holt of this town. Miss Whitney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Diles Whitney of Brookline. The marriage will take place at the bride's home on May 2. After September first Mr. and Mrs. Holt will take up their residence in Melrose.

Tomorrow evening the marriage of Miss Ellen Hayward of Ballardvale and Stanley Windsor Moulton of Boston will take place at the home of Miss Hayward's sister, Mrs. David Shaw on Main street. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Arthur W. Moulton of Grace church, Lawrence. Miss Sarah Hayward and Ralph Menard will attend the couple. After the ceremony a reception will be held, the ushers to be Mrs. Chas. C. Small, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton and Herbert P. Leavitt. After June first Mr. and Mrs. Moulton will be at home at 1301 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

The fire department has been called out four times this week to extinguish brush fires. Tuesday a brush fire got started in West Andover between Chandler road and Beacon street. No damage was done and the fire was quickly extinguished. Yesterday morning soon after three o'clock an alarm came in, summoning aid to a brush fire in Carmel Woods. This too was soon put out. Thursday morning about 6.30 the department was called to extinguish a fire which started in the roof of the house in which Herbert Lewis lives in Osgood district. It started from a spark from the chimney, but little damage was done as the fire was out when the chemical arrived. Again, shortly after noon a brush fire on Lupin road below the gas house caused considerable fighting, but was put out before any damage was done.

Miss Emma Holt spent the week end visiting her aunt in Forge village.

Roy Rhodes of Chestnut street spent the holiday visiting his brother in Brookline.

Lester Towne of Tufts college, spent the holiday with his parents in Scotland district.

Punchard nine will play Sanborn Seminary this afternoon on the local playstead.

Rev. and Mrs. Francis Howe Johnson have returned to their home on Elm street after spending the winter in Italy.

A good delegation from the local Christian Endeavor societies attended the county convention in Haverhill on Monday.

T. A. Holt Co. will furnish the coffee for the annual May breakfast to be held in the Town hall, May 1. Everyone knows what delicious coffee has been served for several years past and the same kind will be served this year.

Sixteen from the local grange attended the meeting of the North Andover grange Tuesday evening when the third and fourth degrees were conferred, and State Deputy Walter Brown of West Penobscot inspected the grange.

Dr. C. R. Williams of Philadelphia gave a very interesting lecture at the South church Sunday evening on "The Writing of Our Bible." He exhibited clay tablets 3000 years old, and ancient manuscripts, as well as other interesting illustrations.

At 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the Women's Union of the South church will hold its annual meeting with the election of officers and reports of the year's work. Mr. Bigelow will read and Miss Mabel Carter will sing groups of songs. Dustless dusters made by pupils of the International College at Springfield will be on sale at 25 cents each for the benefit of the college.

The regular monthly social of the Seamen's Friend society of the West church was held last evening. A bountiful supper was served and the evening was spent with selections from a victrola and a good social time. There were eighty-five present. The evening was in charge of Miss Clara Putnam, Miss Ella Holt, Miss Helen Battles, Miss Anna Burt, Mrs. Alice Boutwell, and Mrs. Anna Paddock.

"A child's among ye takin' notes." The officers of the A. V. L. S. are Argus-eyed this week, and have in view some spots which as yet have not felt the effects of "clean-up" week. Owners of property and tenants should realize that photographs of unsightly places may be taken to be shown with the aid of the stereopticon at the next annual meeting of the society. We are all working together for a more healthful and more beautiful Andover.

The regular meeting of Andover Grange will be held next Tuesday evening. The lecturer's hour will consist of five-minute papers on "Current Events" by Thomas Carter, Helen Swanton, Clifford Dunnells, and Gladys Hill. There will be an address by Hon. John N. Cole, besides music and readings, and a surprise program, which everyone is always glad to hear about.

The regular meeting of the local societies of Christian Endeavor was held in West Parish last Saturday evening in the Grange hall. About 125 were present and the Baptist church took the banner for the largest percentage of attendance. The meeting was called to order by President Reginald Andrews of North Andover. Besides the regular business, plans were discussed for the convention which was held in Haverhill Monday. The executive committee was asked to choose two delegates for the Sagamore convention this summer. Rev. John L. Keedy of No. Andover was the principal speaker of the evening. He took for his subject "Conventions and their useful effects." At the close of the meeting the entertaining society served ice cream and cake.

Events for the Coming Week

TUESDAY

8.00. Punchard Glen Club concert.
8.00. South Church Men's Club.

WEDNESDAY

Business Sale at Gold House.

THURSDAY

7.45. T. W. T. play in South Church vestry.

FRIDAY

1.30-2.30. May Breakfast.

The Guild house will be open next week, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Timothy O'Sullivan, Jr., has returned to Holy Cross College, Worcester, after spending the Easter vacation at the home of his parents, on Washington avenue.

Among the salon passengers who returned to Boston from Naples Monday, on the S. S. Canopic were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Howe Johnson and Miss Annette Bennett.

Another May Breakfast is almost here. Be sure and go to breakfast in the town hall next Friday morning. Of course there will be lots of good things to eat—beans, rolls, coffee, cold meats, doughnuts, cake, pies, and a whole lot more you'll get if you go.

The funeral of Morris Williams will be held Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from his late home on High street. The Odd Fellows will attend in a body and will conduct the services at the grave. Odd Fellows are requested to meet at the lodge rooms at 2 p.m.

Last Friday evening after one of their number had been ejected from the Colonial theatre for creating a disturbance, the rest of the P. A. students left the house and later returned and treated the front of the building to a bombardment of good, fresh eggs. The police interfered and arrested one of their number, who with another student was before Judge Stone on Saturday evening charged with inciting a riot. They were reprimanded and ordered to clean off the front of the Colonial theatre and repair the damages. As a result of the outbreak the students have been barred from the movies by Principal Stearns.

Concert To-night

The first concert of the Punchard Glen club will be held this evening in Punchard hall at 8 o'clock. The program will be well worth hearing.

Beautiful Piano Free

Who is the "most popular moving picture fan?" Beginning May 1, every ticket purchaser at the Colonial will be given a coupon entitling the holder to one vote for the most popular fan. On September 1 the winner of the most votes will be awarded a splendid new piano. See next week's Townsman for full particulars.

In discussing "The Fatherly Commonwealth," Hon. John N. Cole shows some startling conditions that have developed in Massachusetts during the past ten years, resulting in such a burden as the above heading implies, for every man, woman and child in the state. Mr. Cole will speak at the South Church Men's Club tonight and will review recent attempts to lessen the growing burden. Everybody who is interested is cordially welcomed.

CARRANZA HINTS WAR ON BORDER

Wants Us to Withdraw Troops
From Mexican Soil

SEIZURE OF VERA CRUZ
AN ACT OF HOSTILITY

Letter From Rebel Leader Confirms Fears That He May Side With Huerta—Says He Will Soon Triumph Over Huerta and Make Ample Reparation For All Offenses—Huerta Expected to Soon Give O'Shaughnessy His Passports—
Americans Under Admiral Fletcher
Now Control Whole City of Vera Cruz, Which is Now Quiet

News that General Carranza, constitutionalist chief, had regarded the seizure of Vera Cruz by the American naval forces as an act of hostility to the Mexican nation fell like a bombshell in official circles at Washington.
It was taken to mean that war with united Mexico is imminent.

President Wilson had, especially disclaimed any act of hostility to the Mexican people, particularizing General Huerta as the object of the American operations to secure reparation for offenses at Tampico and elsewhere against the American flag.

Consequently the Washington government had hoped the constitutionalists would remain silent and not interject themselves in the imbroglio.
The Carranza letter, however, the text of which was communicated to Secretary Bryan, confirmed the fears of many officials that the constitutionalists might side with Huerta.

This was the one possibility which had been discussed in administration circles as the most serious phase in the situation. Should hostility on the part of the constitutionalists crystallize, plans of the army will be changed. There were reports that the joint army and navy board already had recommended the restoration of the embargo on arms.

Carranza, in his letter, pointed out that the seizure of Vera Cruz would be regarded as a hostile act by the Mexican people and that it was advisable for the United States to withdraw its troops from Vera Cruz just as soon as was practicable.

Carranza agreed with President Wilson that Huerta did not represent the Mexican nation, but, on the other hand, feared the Mexican people might be inflamed and drawn into a conflict which would make them sacrifices to the usurpations of Huerta.

Carranza described the constitutionalist successes, saying Huerta was slowly being crushed, and that the constitutionalists soon would be in possession of the Mexican City government. When they triumphed, he pointed out, ample reparation would be made for all offenses. In the meantime, he wished the United States to take no steps which would excite the Mexican populace.

Officials expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the promptness of Rear Admiral Fletcher's forces in taking possession of Vera Cruz and restoring order there.

Further steps are uncertain. The president has determined that his course shall be gradual. No orders have been issued to seize the custom house at Tampico. It is the purpose of the administration to keep order in Vera Cruz and await the full effect upon Huerta of the first act of reprisal by the American government.

Secretary Bryan said the status of Charge O'Shaughnessy and Charge Algarra was unchanged, so far as he knew. Charge Algarra has had, however, notification from his government that he may leave when he deems it advisable. This is regarded as possibly forecasting Huerta's giving passports to O'Shaughnessy.

Though international lawyers and men in congress are not exactly sure what the diplomatic relations of the United States toward Mexico are—whether a "state of war exists" without a declaration to that effect, or whether, as many precedents have shown, the present situation is merely an act of reprisal "short of war"— there is no doubt that relations between the Huerta de facto government and the United States have been broken.

The United States will not withdraw O'Shaughnessy unless he himself reports it advisable to do so, for the Washington government desires to maintain as long as possible a representative in Mexico City to care for American interests there. If necessary, however, arrangements may be made with some of the other foreign legations to look out for the interests of the United States and transmit such communications as may be necessary to the Huerta government.

NOW QUIET AT VERA CRUZ

Mexican Seaport in Possession of ted States forces.

COMMANDER MALPICA

Head of Mexican Navy Who Will Attack Our Ships in Case of War

Rear Admiral Fletcher has taken up his headquarters at the Terminal hotel. The entire city is strongly patrolled and quiet prevails. Fletcher is now in command of the land operations, while Rear Admiral Badger, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, has brought his flag into the harbor on the Minnesota.

In the fighting Wednesday the casualties on the American side were
R. Percy, marine, fatally wounded;
K. Cristy, J. G. Bennett, H. Ful-ham, C. C. Nordbeck and H. Holhom, wounded.

Fletcher, at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, ordered a general movement for the occupation of all the town. A column of bluejackets advanced and passed the uncompleted market place and naval college.

When they had reached the walls of the college a terrific rifle fire was poured in all directions from the roof and the windows. The bluejackets were helpless to return the fire against the stone walls and scattered.

The Pacific, the Chester and the San Francisco opened with their five and six-inch guns and shattered the walls. The bluejackets re-formed and advanced against the fire, which had diminished greatly.

The number of Mexicans killed Tuesday is estimated at 150, with many wounded. The Mexican loss Wednesday is not known, but is thought to have been heavy.

The machine guns sounded their "tap-tap" in all quarters and American sharpshooters, posted at street corners and other points of vantage, picked off at will any man who appeared to be acting suspiciously.

Proclamations by Badger were posted, calling upon the mayor and other municipal authorities to assist in re-establishing order and providing for the safety of all citizens. The inhabitants were enjoined to maintain peace, not to fire upon the United States sailors or marines nor allow their houses to be used as shelters for sharpshooters under penalty of severe measures.

All fighting ceased and after that the city remained comparatively quiet. The American forces made no attempt to extend their occupation further. Captain Bush, who was in command of the entire invading force, said he had accomplished all he had been ordered to do.

Prairie Fires First Shot
The transport Prairie had the honor of being the first ship to open fire on the Mexicans. This was after a big detachment of seamen and marines gathered from the different ships of Admiral Fletcher's squadron had landed from the Prairie for what appeared at the time to be a blood-less invasion. But acting in true Mexican fashion, the federalists waited till the party was well ashore and then the firing began.

From housetops and windows the rain of bullets came down upon the American party, which quickly replied. Then the three-inch guns of the navy transport barked out.

The Mexicans, however, paid scant attention to the guns of the Prairie, although the aim of the American gunners was true to the mark. Fighting continued till finally Rear Admiral Fletcher sent a warning that further resistance on the part of the Mexicans would bring an attack from the big guns of the dreadnoughts.

This warning was evidently taken as another "bluff," for from the housetops the Mexicans continued to shoot at the American detachment in the streets.

But their fire was quickly stopped, for almost simultaneously four great guns, truly aimed, spoke. The big shells reached their mark and the buildings at which they were aimed went toppling to the street, carrying down with them the men who were seeking to defy the authority of the United States. This one volley of the great guns was sufficient. There was no more Mexican firing, and the defenders of Vera Cruz were soon in retreat outside of the city, where they remain.

PRESIDENT IS AMPLY BACKED

House Overwhelmingly Concurs
In Senate Resolution

VOTE IS ALMOST UNANIMOUS

Wilson is Thus in Absolute Charge of Hostilities Against Mexico—No Riots Demanded and Measure is Put Through With Great Rush—
Congress Asked For $500,000 to Bring Americans Home From Mexico—Money Grant Not Necessary

Congress placed President Wilson in absolute charge of hostilities against Mexico. The resolution
"justifying" his course and giving him unlimited power to use every material force was passed by both the senate and house.

Following passage by the senate by a vote of 72 to 13 of the Mexican resolution, the house took similar action by a viva voce vote.

No recall was demanded in the lower legislative body. A feeble chorus of "noes" was drowned in a thunderous volume of "ayes" and the resolution was concurred in by the house and sent post haste to the president, who immediately signed it.

Less than a half-hour was required for the action of the house. The resolution was laid before it and after minutes later it was roared into law.

The senate had talked and disputed and quibbled over the words in the resolution. The house acted at once.
There was practically no debate.
Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee called up the resolution, as amended by the senate.

The text of the resolution as finally passed is as follows:

"In view of the facts presented by the President of the United States in his address to congress in joint session on the 20th of April, 1914, with regard to certain affronts and indignities, committed against the United States in Mexico,

"Resolved, That the president is justified in the employment of the armed forces of the United States to enforce his demands for unequivocal amends for the affronts and indignities committed against the United States. Be it further

"Resolved, That the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people or any purpose to make war upon them."

Members of the house military affairs committee, including Chairman Hay, decided not to concur in the senate amendments to the volunteer army bill, but to ask for a conference with the senate. They did this, believing that the need of raising a volunteer army for Mexican service is remote enough to justify delay caused by the conference.

Mr. Underwood announced that he did not expect the house to act on any bill appropriating money for war purposes in Mexico at the present time.

"We have plenty of money now unless the president expects to march to Mexico City," said Underwood, "as far as I know, the president has no such intention."

AN AMPLE WAR FUND

Only Tentative Plans For Financing
Mexican Situation Considered

That the United States could finance a war with Mexico and scarcely feel it, is the view authoritatively expressed at Washington.

The government's finances are considered to be in excellent condition—so good in fact, that even the treasury officials who are in closest touch with the situation have given only tentative consideration to the subject of providing a war fund.

It is said no plans for raising money yet have been considered, as current appropriations for the navy and the army in view of the officials will be sufficient for present needs and as it will cost no more to maintain the fleet in Mexican waters than in United States waters.

In the event of extraordinary expenses, which would arise naturally during a state of war, money could be raised, it is pointed out, precisely as it was raised during the Spanish-American war, through extraordinary taxes. It has been estimated that a beer and stamp tax would increase the revenues of the government by at least $100,000,000 a year.

JAPAN STRICTLY NEUTRAL

One of Her Warships on Pacific Coast
Ready to Take Citizens Aboard

The Japanese government will remain strictly neutral in so far as the war between the United States and Mexico is concerned. This was the announcement of government officials at Tokio.

A Japanese warship is now on the Pacific coast of Mexico and will stand ready to take Japanese citizens aboard should it be necessary for them to leave Mexico.

Obituary

MRS. SARAH SHATTUCK

Mrs. Sarah Josephine (Crosby) Shattuck died Saturday, April 18, at her home on River road, West Andover, after a long illness. She was born in Boston, October 10, 1830, and for many years lived in North Andover. While a resident of that town she married Edward Shattuck of Andover, who died a few months ago. Mrs. Shattuck is survived by two sons, George, of Salem, and Edward of Boston; two sisters, Mrs. E. S.
Johnson of Methuen, and Miss Harriet
L. Crosby of Methuen, and one brother,
Arthur J. Crosby of Methuen.

The funeral was held Monday at 2:30 o'clock, from her late home. Services were conducted by Rev. Edward D. J.
Johnson of Salem, a nephew of the deceased. The body was cremated at Mt.
Auburn cemetery and burial was in West Parish cemetery.

MRS. ISABELLA S. HUNTER

Mrs. Isabella Hunter, wife of Jas. C.
Hunter, passed away at the family home
Wednesday, April 22, after a long illness.

The deceased, a native of Scotland, came to Andover from Lawrence sixteen years ago, and though of a quiet, retiring nature, made many friends in town.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Hunter is survived by two daughters, Jennie S., bookkeeper at Valpey's market, and Edith B., wife of Walter H. Thompson, also two sisters who reside in Boston.
Funeral services will be held at her late home, 75 Elm street, Saturday at 2 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev.

MORRIS WILLIAMS

Morris Williams, for seven years janitor at Abbot Academy, died last Wednesday at the Lawrence General Hospital, after a ten days' illness. He was born at Penmorfa in North Wales, June 4, 1876, and spent his childhood in the country only a few miles from Carnarvon Castle. When he was twelve years old he ran away from home and took service on a merchantman bound for Rio Janeiro, and for eleven years he "followed the sea." The training he received as a sailor showed in the splendid quality of his work and his fine sense of order and discipline.

Seven years ago in June he came to Andover and the following September became janitor at Abbot Academy, having charge of McKen Hall, Abbot Hall and the John-Esther Art Building. On December 27, 1911, he married Betsey Patterson and settled down in High street to the first home life he had known since his childhood. April 13, 1913, his son, Morris Williams, Jr., was born, and for the past year plans for "the boy's" future have constantly filled his mind.
For about four years he has been a member of Andover Lodge, 230, of the Institute of Odd Fellows.

An attack of the grip in March was followed ten days ago by an illness which made an immediate operation necessary.
Complications set in, and Wednesday afternoon he passed quietly away at the Lawrence Hospital.

Perhaps the most noticeable quality in Morris Williams was his devotion to his work and enthusiasm for it. Wonderfully quick and deft, he was never content unless everything was in perfect order.

Both at work and at home he was always happy and cheerful, and to all with whom and for whom he worked his death will be a great loss.

MRS. ELIZA KNIPE

Mrs. Eliza Knipe died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sarah MacCreadie, 54 Whittier street, on Monday, after a lingering illness. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John Asting of Pawtucket, R. I., and Mrs. Sarah Mac-Creadie; two sons, William and Wilson Knipe of this town, besides several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the Episcopal church Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Henry Goddard, and George Knipe, a grandson of the deceased, sang "Abide with Me." Burial was in the family lot in the Episcopal cemetery.
The bearers were John MacCreadie,
Herbert Hamilton, and her two sons,
William and Wilson Knipe.

Andover, 3; Amoskeag Textile, 2

On the Cricket field Andover United defeated the Amoskeag Textile team of Manchester last Saturday in the second round of the State Cup competition, three goals to two. Conditions were ideal and both teams in top form. The game was replete with thrilling plays and was very fast through out. Andover gave their best exhibition of team work this season and while each man did his part well, Rae's game was the best exhibition of full back play seen in this district. All of the five goals scored were of a fluky nature and neither Swindell nor Deyermund could be blamed. Andover's first two goals came through slip-ups of the backs, and Page's alertness, while Dundas's goal might have been saved had Downs not stepped in. When Swindell and Deyermund were called upon they both gave clever exhibitions and saved many brilliant and dangerous shots.

Amoskeag kicked off and at once got down Dundas trying Deyermund with a shot from touch. The ball was punned to midfield when Page, taking advantage of the backs being off balance, broke through and with a clear goal scored easily in one minute, giving Swindell no chance to save. Murray broke through and gave Meikle, who was in good position, a pass but the shot was easy for Deyermund. From a free kick near midfield, Coleman drove in a beauty which McKewon foolishly attempted to clear but sent the ball away out of Swindell's reach into the corner of the net for the second in eight minutes.

Andover from this point, while not value for two goal lead, showed to better advantage, the combination between the half and forwards being perfect.

McKewon especially found the elusive Page and Doherty a hard problem and for the first thirty minutes was clearly outplayed. Dundas was making chances for himself from small openings and it was from a fine shot from him that Amoskeag got their first goal, the ball glancing off Downs and bounding into the net. Too eager for another goal Dundas ran into Downs, who was punting, and was hurt, but was able to start after a few minutes. The ball kept changing ends rapidly and the half ended with Murray sending weakly behind while well placed. Andover, 2; Amoskeag, 1.

After the rest both teams played with renewed energy. Wallace and Downs got mixed in the goal area and Deyermund ran out and cleared with the ball bouncing free in the goal mouth. At the other end, Skeas sent in a beauty after taking a well placed pass and passing McKewon the shot scraped the bar and was driven back to play by W. Deyermund, Page shot into Swindell's hands from five yards' range. Back to the other end went the ball and W. McAllister sent in a hammer which struck under the bar, Deyermund only managing to connect after the bounce. Hanging too long while within good range Dundas was swept off his feet by the on rushing Downs and a corner resulted. From the kick in, the ball struck Renny's hands in the penalty box, which gave J. Meikle a chance to even the score, Deyermund having no chance to save. Andover started the attack harder than ever and three fouls near Amoskeag's goal came in rapid succession. From one off Davidson a penalty was given and Rae scored the winning goal from the free kick. Andover, 3; Amoskeag, 2.

Referee Lambie gave one of the best exhibitions of handling a game ever seen in the district. He was master at all times and gave his decisions impartially and promptly and his fine work added to the enjoyment of the great game.

Andover: J. Deyermund; Rae and Downs; Coleman, R. Deyermund and Renny; W. Deyermund, Lowe, Page, Doherty and Skeas.

Amoskeag: Swindell; McKewon and Meikle; Rogers, Davidson and Murray; Dundas, W. McAllister, Wallace, Wm. McAllister, and W. Meikle.

Andover, 4; Olympics, 1

Andover won their first game in the Marshall Cup ties Monday afternoon by defeating the Olympic team of Lawrence at Burnham park. The game was rather one-sided the Olympics failing, to show the finer touches of football which were demonstrated by the United. Their backs, however, put up a hard resistance and Movey, although far too rough, broke up many runs.

Andover was the first to press, getting down against the wind. Page tried Kerahaw twice but failed to find the net. A penalty for hands gave Andover a chance, and Rae scored the first goal from the free kick. Andover came away on the left and Skeas forced a corner. Skeas broke away again, passed to Page, and accepting a return pass from the captain, found the net for the second goal. The Olympics got going now, but several corners were the best they could do, Munroe saving brilliantly. Page got possession at center and slipped out to the wing, sent a few green jerseyed players and bent in a perfect center, when Movey cleared at the expense of a corner. Skeas kicked poorly but caught the ball on a return from Jackson and sent in a beauty shot which beat Kerahaw, the ball landing in the far corner of the net.

Andover continued to have the better of the play but a number of foul throws nullified their good work. Gilmartin tested Munroe with a hot one and the custodian was called upon soon after but cleared well. A corner and a penalty against Andover gave the home team some hope but Munroe stopped Higgingbottom's low shot. The Olympics tried hard to score at this stage but Andover's defense was impregnable, Munroe stopping all attempts to get the ball in the net. Half time, Andover, 3; Olympics, 0.

During the second half the Andover backs spent the greater part of the time in Olympic territory. Despite this, goals were hard to get, referee Deary finding several offside plays on perfectly square passes. Movey provided much amusement by his antics in midfield, and drove over from far out. R. Lynch headed a good pass from Gilmartin over the bar. Buttler came in between the backs and scored a moment later from a foul off R. Deyermund. Three times Andover's goal was in danger but Munroe saved each time, his best effort being the fisting of a rocket shot from Buttler who took a pretty pass right in front of goal. Another penalty against the Olympics gave Page a chance and he scored the fourth and last goal of the match. The feature of the game was the brilliant goal keeping of Johnny Munroe, who time and again beat up the attack of the Limps. He was easily the star of the game and saved a penalty kick.

Score: Andover, 4; Olympics, 1.

Andover: Munroe; W. Rae, and G. Rae; Coleman, R. Deyermund and Jackson; W. Deyermund, Cairnie, Page, Doherty and Skeas.

Olympics: Kerahaw; Higgingbottom and Hulse; Movey, Buttler, and Clarke; Gilmartin, Ratcliffe, F. Lynch, R. Lynch and Cousins.

Referee: Mr. P. Deary of Lawrence.

Thistles, 3; North Andover, 2

Monday morning at No. Andover, in the first round of the Marshall Cup, the Andover Thistles defeated the North Andover Uniteds 3 to 2. The field was rather heavy and wet and the game was played before a small but enthusiastic crowd.

The Thistles were the favorites at the start but the North Andover team played on the offensive a good part of the time and looked like winners. Each team had a great deal of difficulty in making a goal and it looked like a tie score several times. The last score, made by Carnathan, who played a great game for the Thistles, was made within the last minute of play. At the end of the first period the score was one each.

All the players did well on both sides. Carnathan and Deyermund excelled for the visitors and Cargill and Davis for the home team. Summary: Thistles: Deyermund; Eaton and Campbell; Lynch, Macintosh and Nicol; Porter, Caldwell, Poole, Carnathan and Black.

No. Andover: Brothers; Rennie and Windle; Lambert, Macintosh and Davis; Clarke, McDonald, Cargill, Mitchell and Davis.

Score: Andover Thistles, 3; North Andover Uniteds, 2. Goals: Nicol and Carnathan, 2; Cargill and Davis, 1. Referee, James Tunon. Linesmen, Alfred Robb (Thistles), Albert Beatty (United). Time, two 45th halves.

The United will play the Lynn Hibernians on the Cricket field Saturday afternoon in the third round for the State cup. The team will consist of J. Deyermund, Rae, Downs, Coleman, R. Deyermund, Rennie, W. Deyermund, Lowe, Page, Dougherty and Skeas. The Hibs are a fast team and a good contest is assured.

Andover Citizens Should Know

Here are some plain statements. If they are not in accordance with actual facts, the columns of the Townsman will be open to anybody who desires to controvert the statements made.

The Board of Public Works, as organized at the present time, has been in power since March 2. From the information that comes to this office, it has pursued during this period the policy of waiting. As Superintendent of the Board, regularly elected the year previous, the town has been paying the salary of a man who had made good in previous places and who many people believed had the ability to make good in Andover if given the opportunity. The spring is well advanced. The roads have grown steadily worse from day to day, until today they probably mark a condition never before realized in the highways of Andover. Yet this man has been practically idle because of a personal difference with the Board chairman.

By a vote of three to two, such action as has been taken this year has resulted in increased salaries for practically all of the employees, and a devotion of most of their time to a discussion of the merits of various baseball teams who might wish to have dates arranged for contests on the playground, and other like important matters. From week to week the question of engaging a superintendent for another year has been postponed. Final action appears to have been taken in this connection at the meeting on Wednesday evening, when by the votes of Chairman Rhodes, Messrs. McTernan and Hodgkins, the town obligated itself to pay the salary of Supt. Wood until the close of his year's contract in May, with the understanding that he should leave his position at once. The result of this action is that the town is without a highway superintendent, and the policy of waiting would appear to be determined for a still further period.

Some day the town will arouse itself and realize what is meant by such control of an important department as now obtains in connection with the Public Works of Andover.

Editorial Cinders

In this age of "boosting," how easy it is for a lot of people to indulge in bunting. One of our important industries in Andover isn't getting its share of business because so many people have been so ready to "hammer" where they might better have devoted their energies to hurrahing. We refer to the Tyer Rubber Company, who are not developing their automobile tire business as rapidly as should be the case, particularly from the local standpoint. Every man who does business in Andover should use Tyrian tires in every possible need, and it has been estimated that if the automobilists within ten miles of the Tyer Rubber Company would purchase Tyrian tires, they would go a long way toward keeping running the factory which has been so fully equipped and so well established for this business. This ten-mile limit is the natural beneficiary of every bit of labor performed in the Tyer factory, and nothing could be more natural than for genuine reciprocity between the men who are to benefit by the spending of money by the operatives in the factory, and the users of Tyrian tires. There is a lot of "boosting" to be done in this world not directly associated with big cities or with great natural resources. We can find many opportunities right at our doors, and some of them are beginning to knock pretty loudly for consideration.

For at least one day next summer, Andover people ought to make their plans to go to the Isle of Shoals. We don't know whether Mr. Harrington, who is to run the principal hotel at that section again, could care for all those who might go under these conditions or not. Certainly it would be most natural for summer saunterers to patronize a local hotel man, especially where the success of a previous season has made a promise for another year so attractive as it is in the case of our own townsman, who is making his plans to again carry on during the coming summer, the Oceanic House at the Isle of Shoals.

The Townsman agreed to give Chairman Rhodes every opportunity to make good, and that agreement still holds good, but the town can ill afford to overlook the methods that are now being followed, which promise to leave Andover at the close of this year in the most serious situation it has been within the memory of the present generation, and a condition for which a continued maladministration of this department will be largely responsible.

The framework for the new memorial gateway at Phillips Academy carries a promise of a very imposing entrance to the main campus of that institution. It is bound to be architecturally effective because of the fact that its designer is Mr. Guy Lowell, and it would seem to promise just the touch needed to give a new and inviting dignity to the already beautiful "Andover Hill."

Building business starts very slowly in Andover this spring, but there are suggested a number of new structures which promise a fairly active season for most of the local mechanics. Reports from the Smith & Dove Company indicate that the management there have not failed in the emergency which seemed to come to them with the enactment of the new tariff, for again things are busy, and full time and large product are reported to be the order of the day. This same condition is also said to be true in connection with the work at the Marland Mills, and in these times of rather serious depression in many lines, Andover appears to be peculiarly fortunate in the success of its important industries.

It is doubtful if very many of the Phillips Academy boys go to the Mexican war, but their surplus energy can be very effectively displayed, and their patriotism very properly enthused by such demonstrations as that of Wednesday evening, which led them to carry on a parade through the principal streets of the town, in the true spirit of young American manhood.

There is a pretty well founded belief that the two chief trouble makers of the Board of Public Works are desirous of having two heads to the one department. We trust the town is watching developments in this organization entrusted with the expenditure of over $50,000 this year.

Gentlemen's Night

The Andover Mothers' club held a gentlemen's night in Punchard Hall on Monday evening. The affair proved one of the most successful in years.

An address of welcome by Mrs. Bernard M. Allen, president of the club, opened the evening. A violin solo by Blanchard Ralph, accompanied on the piano by Miss Gladys Ralph, was then rendered. William A. Allen gave selections on the Edison Disc machine.

The principal feature of the evening was the "Family Album," in charge of Mrs. M. S. McCurdy, "Mrs. Jerusha Pease." This consisted of many poses as follows:

Mother	Mrs. David Lindsay
Father	Mrs. Frank Valentin
Baby	Mrs. Alex. Crockett
Myself as a girl—seven years old
Myself when I met Eben	Mrs. William Burke
Eben	Mrs. William Brown
Myself as a Bride	Mrs. George Carter
Twins	Mrs. E. C. Cole
	Mrs. James Colburn
	Mrs. Walter Buxton
	Mrs. Walter Cheever
Parson	Mrs. James Feehey
Parson's wife	Mrs. Ralph Manning
Roy, parson's son	Mrs. Joseph Fallon
Sister Jane Higgs	Mrs. John Stock
Sister Jane's husband	Mrs. Elmer Philbrick
Sophia	Mrs. Parmenas Partridge
Anna Lisa	Mrs. John Adams
Aunt Mchitable	Mrs. Thomas Rhodes
Queen Victoria	Mrs. Charles Francis
Village beauty	Mrs. Thomas Platt
Grandma Hobbs	Mrs. George Holt
Grandpa Hobbs	Mrs. Charles Francis
Liberty

The album was closed by old singing America. Auld Lang Syne was sung afterwards. A collation was served in charge of Mrs. Thomas Platt.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. James Feehey, chairman; Mrs. Parmenas Partridge, Mrs. Walter Buxton, Mrs. Bernard M. Allen.

BIRTH

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Annual Dance of K. of C. Held in Town Hall

The ninth annual ball of Andover Council, No. 1078, Knights of Columbus, was held in the town hall last Friday evening and proved a very successful event in every way.

The hall presented a very attractive appearance, the decorations being the most elaborate ever attempted, and the color schemes blended harmoniously. From a canopy of blue and white in the center streamers of the same color extended to the side, while myriads of colored lights and Japanese lanterns added to the general effect. The stage was very attractive; columns of white supported arches of colored lights, and from the central arch K. of C. was suspended, made up of tiny lights of pale red and green.

Lattice work of white with garlands of evergreens screened off the stage. At the rear of the balcony was a large maltese cross of colored lights, while on the left of the stage a cosy corner presented a most inviting appearance. From 8 to 9 o'clock Millington's orchestra rendered a very pleasing concert of popular and classical airs.

The grand march was led by James Daly and Miss Alice Weiss, followed by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mahoney, John H. McDonald and Miss Beattie Gaine, Francis Maroney and Miss Rachel Maquire, Bernard McDonald and Miss Josephine Mawn, John Driscoll and Miss Bell Bowman, Thomas Kyle and Miss Loretta Maquire, Alexander Dudley and Miss Josephine Manning.

The committee of arrangements comprised: Bernard L. McDonald, chairman; James F. Welch, secretary; Patrick J. Carroll, Walter V. Donovan, John J. Driscoll, Timothy J. Mahoney, Francis Maroney, John H. McDonald, Frank J. Mooney, Walter J. Morrissey.

The officials were: Grand conductor, James W. Daley; assistant grand conductor, John F. Sweeney; floor director, Walter J. Morrissey; assistant floor director, James F. Welch; aids, Michael J. Brennan, David S. Burns, John C. Collins, William C. Crowley, Michael F. Donovan, Alexander J. Dudley, Jas. Green, William L. McDonald, Peter J. O'Connor, John Shattuck.

Reception committee: Dr. John J. Daly, Patrick J. Dwan, Timothy J. Mahoney, John H. McDonald, John Sweeney.

Among those present were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wyllie, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Maroney.

K. O. K. A. Play

Last evening the K. O. K. A. of the South church presented a farce entitled "A Close Shave," before a large audience. The boys took their parts well, Everett Collins, Judson Dean, John Erving and William Holden excelling.

A program consisting of a reading by Douglas Crawford, solos by Miss Mabel Carter and selections on the victrola was rendered in a very pleasing manner. Ice cream, cake and candy were on sale.

The cast:
Tosnor, a barber John Converse
McGinnis, his assistant Everett Collins
Job, a colored apprentice Judson Dean
Crusty, a rich old gentleman Byron Morrill
Heavy-face, a hypochondriac John Erving
Simper a dude William Holden

Operetta by Choir Boys

"The Brownies' Whispers," an operetta in two acts, will be given in the town hall on Tuesday evening, May 26, by the boys of Christ church choir. There will be a limited number of reserved seats at 75 cents each, and tickets of admission will be sold at 50 cents each.

The Brownies in their frolics and dances, together with their songs, will be very entertaining to those who attend the operetta.

The flowers taking part in the operetta are Daisies, Roses, Lilies, Pansies, and Sweet Peas. In their pretty costumes, which were designed by H. Winthrop Peirce, they will be very attractive, and their songs and dances will add a great deal of pleasure to the performance.

Raindrops in dainty costumes and Sunbeams in brighter colors will also dance and sing. There will also be a gardener and his daughter in the cast.

The operetta will be given under the direction of B. Frank Michelsen.

Andover Guild Notes

Last Tuesday night the girls of the basketball teams entertained their coach, Miss Armstrong. After presenting her with a group picture of themselves as a mark of their appreciation, they played games and indulged in ice cream and cake, thus closing a very delightful evening.

Yesterday afternoon the Mothers' club had a final meeting. Miss Lucy Abbott gave a very practical talk and answered many questions. Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Tonight the boys' basketball team gives a dance in the Guild gymnasium, the proceeds to go toward team equipment. A large attendance, therefore, is desired.

Miss Anna B. Abbott did not forget to call at her former place of service, and she was very welcome.

Tomorrow afternoon the rummage sale committee, Mrs. Cannon, chairman, will hold a final sale at the Guild.

Annual Contest Results in All Three Prizes for Seniors

Punchard Hall was filled to its utmost capacity last Friday evening when the fifteenth annual competition for the J. W. Barnard prizes was held. The essays were all well written and well delivered, as well as being interesting and instructive. The senior class, however, carried away all the prizes. The first prize of $20 was awarded to Arthur Rand Lewis, "14 'Playing the Game';" the second, $12, to Katherine Annette Berry, "Public Schools in England," and the third, $8, to Hester Elizabeth Newman, "Florence Nightingale."

The subject, "Playing the Game" was splendidly handled by Mr. Lewis, who traced the great American game of baseball from the time a boy starts, when he can barely hold a ball in his baby hands, till its development into a commercial problem of dollars and cents. This is a very pertinent subject and proved very interesting, due to his bright, witty way in which it was given.

Miss Berry chose the apparently very dry subject, "Public Schools in England," and wrote a very fine essay. She took the two preparatory schools of Winchester and Eton and traced their history. As Winchester was the oldest she took that one in detail and told about its customs and manners, its influence on the student and how it differed from our American schools.

The "Story of Florence Nightingale," no matter how many times it is told, is always of interest and value. Nearly everyone knows who she was, but a great many do not realize the great work she undertook and the wonderful good she accomplished. This Miss Newman showed in her essay.

"Heroes of the Wireless," discussing probably the greatest invention of the age, was ably dealt with by Fred Porter Sampson, '15. Mr. Sampson showed that the hero of the seas was no longer the captain, but the wireless operator. In the course of his essay he mentioned several of the great ocean disasters which occurred recently and proved his point, that the wireless operator stayed at his post the longest and by so doing was the means of saving more lives than anyone else, giving up his own at the same time.

Elizabeth Carrol Abbott in her essay on "Dan Crawford in Africa," told of the work this missionary was doing and the awful sacrifice he was making for the cause of humanity and Christianity.

On the subject, "The Making of a Railroad," Albert Everett Curtis, '15, traced the development of a railroad from its incorporation until it was built and a new country was opened to the outside world.

THE
SHERMAN STUDIO

An Appeal from the A. V. I. S.

The A. V. I. S. confronts a complication in relation to the removal of rubbish by the town teams, as unexpectedly, the town council informs the Selectmen that they have no authority to approve the bills for this work on the part of men or horses, and without such approval the bills cannot be paid by the town treasurer, as no money has been voted by the town for this specific purpose.

Consequently after two days' work, and an expense of over fifty dollars, the officers of the Improvement Society have felt obliged to call off the teams until an appeal can be made to the public-spirited citizens for help.

The work has received the hearty approval of everyone; it is something which the town should do every year, and without doubt provision will be made for such collection at the next annual meeting.

But we cannot wait for that. We have promised to do it this year. Will not the men and women of Andover help us to keep our promises? As soon as we are assured that they will do so, collections will be resumed.

Because of the small annual membership fee, the finances of the society will not permit us to do this work alone.

Pledges or money may be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, 70 Main street, or to Miss Lincoln, Summer street. Small sums as well as large will be gratefully received.

Pledges have been received as follows:

Charles H. Forbes	5.00

A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Postmaster McDonald's Father and Mother Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary This Week

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald observed the golden anniversary of their marriage Tuesday at their home on Lupin road. Before her marriage, Mrs. McDonald was Miss Catherine Neilson, from St. John's, New Brunswick. They were married April 21, 1864, and have had nine children, all of whom are living, and all were present at the anniversary festivities, together with three grand children.

Mr. McDonald was born in Ireland and came to America when he was six years of age. He served two years and a half in the Civil war, enlisting from Lawrence but being transferred to Co. K 40th New York volunteers which was attached to the famous Mozart regiment. He served in the Peninsular campaign and was wounded in the second battle of Bull Run. After being treated in a field hospital he was removed to a hospital in Philadelphia where he lay between life and death for several weeks, but he finally recovered.

A mass was celebrated at St. Augustine's church in the morning by Rev. Jas. A. McDonald, O. S. A., at which a number of priests from Lawrence assisted Rev. Frederick S. Riordan and Rev. William F. Donovan of Andover. These included Rev. Daniel J. O'Mahoney, Rev. Timothy F. Herlihy, Rev. Richard A. Gleason, Rev. John A. Hogan and Rev. C. G. Medina.

Mr. McDonald belongs to the Mozart organization and is a member of Gen. William F. Bartlett post, 99, G. A. R. Both Mr. and Mrs. McDonald enjoy good health.

The Wearing of the Rose

The new slogan, "Wear a Rose," issues from the headquarters of the Massachusetts anti-suffragists. Everybody who plans to visit Boston on that day and who disapproves of suffrage is urged to wear a rose on May 2, the day of the suffrage parade. The "antis" declare they will have a big army of rose-wearers on that day.

Thousands of real and artificial roses will be sold at various points throughout the city, to be called "Anti-Suffrage Rose Shops." The roses will be sold for whatever they will bring, and if one cares to give nothing, they will be given away. Brigades of boys will carry baskets filled with roses along the course of the parade, and at the anti-suffrage headquarters in the Kensington Building, and at the "Anti-Suffrage Campaign Shop" at 15 Milk street the rose-sellers and the rose-buyers will make their headquarters.

A display of roses will be a feature also of the anti-suffrage mass-meeting, which is to be held in Faneuil Hall on the night of April 28.

Mrs. John Balch of the State Executive Committee, who originated the plan, and devised the unique advertising campaign of the mysterious cards, says: "We intend the wearing of the rose to signify disapproval of the suffrage principles, not especially of the parade. The parade, of course, is merely spectacular, and will appeal to sensible men and women in the same way that does red fire, and similar political clap-trap. It can have no real weight and no importance.

"Our distinguishing color is rose, and therefore we have chosen the rose for our anti-suffrage protest. Every man, woman and child is urged to wear a rose on that day to show disapproval, and we shall have on hand a big supply of the buds and flowers which will be disposed of for as little or as much as they'll bring.

WEDDINGS

ARUNDALE — ERVING

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized last Tuesday evening, April 21, in the Stone Chapel, on Andover Hill, when Miss Fannie Joanna Erving, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Erving of this town, became the bride of Henry Barnes Arundale of South Manchester, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Arundale of Lawrence.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple. The chapel was prettily decorated for the event, the altar being banked with a profusion of palms, azaleas, lilac and wisteria. While the guests were assembling, Carl F. Platt, teacher of Phillips Academy rendered a program of organ selections, which gave place to the wedding march, as the bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar where they were met by the groom, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Winfield B. Knowlton of Lawrence, as best man.

The bride made a charming picture in her beautiful gown, cut en train, of white crepe meteor, draped over white satin, and trimmed with duchesse lace and pearl ornaments. Her large shower bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley, while her veil was fastened with orange blossoms. She was escorted by her father, and preceded by her two sisters, Miss Eva Abbott Erving and Miss Maudie Louise Erving, as bridesmaids, and Marjorie Knowlton, niece of the groom, as flower girl. The bridesmaids wore charming gowns of pink crepe de chine and silk lace over silk, and carried large bouquets of Killarney roses, while the flower girl, who so prettily did honor to the bride, wore French embroidered batiste, over pink silk, and carried a basket of rosebuds and sweet peas. The delicate rose shades in the gowns and flowers made a most pleasing background for the pure white of the bride's array. The ushers who assisted were John M. Erving, brother of the bride, and three classmates of the groom, Arthur C. Varnum of Lowell, Dr. Blaine W. Morgan of Malden, and Everett P. Merrow of Methuen. The double ring service was used, the bride being given away by her father.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the bride's home, 59 Salem street, at which the young couple, standing beneath a bower of palms, received the congratulations of their relatives and a few invited friends. They were assisted in receiving by the small flower girl, and Mr. and Mrs. Erving and Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Arundale. Refreshments were served by Caterer Hinton, the decorations in the dining-room being tulips and sweet peas. Guests were present from Andover, Lawrence, Lowell, Medford, Malden, Lynn, Woburn, Buffalo, N. Y., Los Angeles, Calif., New York City, Montreal, and Sherbrooke, Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Arundale left at 10.30 o'clock for an extended wedding trip after which they will be at home at 6 Lilly street, South Manchester, Conn. The bride, who has spent nearly all of her life here, and is a graduate of Abbot Academy, is well known in Andover, and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. For several years past she has filled a responsible position in the office of Phillips Academy, and has been prominent in social and church activities in the town.

The groom, whose home was formerly in Lawrence, is a graduate of the Lawrence High School, and also of Lowell Textile School. He is at present principal of a Textile School in South Manchester, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Arundale were the recipients of many wedding gifts, including silver, cut glass, china, linen, furniture and pictures. The bride's gift from the groom was a pearl and diamond pendant, while her gift to him was a gold bar watch-chain.

Daughter of Judge Bell Married

There was a pretty wedding on Thursday at the home of Hon. and Mrs. Chas. U. Bell of Bartlett street, when their daughter, Miss Helen P. Bell became the bride of Rev. George H. Driver of Exeter, N. H. The ceremony was performed at noon by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church. The couple were attended by Miss Alice L. Bell, sister of the bride, as bride's maid, and Harold Driver, brother of the groom, as best man. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present.

Mr. Driver is pastor of the First Congregational church of Exeter. He is a graduate of Amherst college and of Yale Divinity school where he was awarded the Hooker Fellowship which entitled him to two years abroad when he studied in Palestine and Germany.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white satin, trimmed with old family Honiton lace and wore her mother's wedding veil.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Driver will reside in Exeter.

Natural History Society Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Natural History Society was held in the school committee rooms Tuesday. Reports of the year's work were made which showed that the society had had an active and prosperous year. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Omar P. Chase, president; Mrs. Wm. G. Goldsmith, vice-president; Jonathan Holt, secretary.

Rev. W. E. Lombard addressed the meeting on the advisability of a game sanctuary, and a committee consisting of Mr. Lombard and Edwin T. Brewster was appointed to look into the matter and report at a later meeting.

SUPT. WOOD DISMISSED

Board of Public Works Ends His Services, but Continues Pay Till May 26

The Board of Public Works held a stormy session Wednesday evening and by a vote of three to two terminated the contract of George W. Wood as superintendent. This decision of the Board has been expected for some time, as the three members who have opposed Mr. Wood for a long time have tried to get the superintendent to resign. They were unsuccessful in this and at the meeting Wednesday, he was relieved of his position to take effect immediately.

Mr. Wood came to Andover the latter part of May, 1913, and as there is still more than a month of his contract time to run, the Board will pay him his salary in full.

An attempt to appoint a successor was not successful. The motion of one member to make the chairman a committee of one to make a temporary appointment failed, being vigorously opposed by the minority of members, as was also the motion to place Frank L. Cole head of the combined departments at a salary of $2000 per annum. The whole matter was deferred to an adjourned meeting to be held this evening.

It is reported that the intention of the Board is to go back to the old system of joint supervision, Thomas O'Brien appearing before the members as a candidate for Highway Surveyor.

The action of the Board in summarily dismissing Mr. Wood is the subject of much adverse criticism among the citizens of the town, the belief being that he ought to have been given a year with a free hand, unhampered by dictation from any member of board. In this way the citizens would have been able to see whether Mr. Wood could make good or not.

Mr. Wood has as yet received no official notification from the secretary of the board. The departments were assigned as follows: Water, Lewis T. Hardy; Sewer, Barnett Rogers; Parks and Playsteads, Thomas E. Rhodes; Andrew B. McTernan, Willis B. Hodgkins.

Andover Citizens Should Know

Here are some plain statements. If they are not in accordance with actual facts, the columns of the Townsman will be open to anybody who desires to controvert the statements made.

The Board of Public Works, as organized at the present time, has been in power since March 2. From the information that comes to this office, it has pursued during this period the policy of waiting. As Superintendent of the Board, regularly elected the year previous, the town has been paying the salary of a man who had made good in previous places and who many people believed had the ability to make good in Andover if given the opportunity. The spring is well advanced. The roads have grown steadily worse from day to day, until today they probably mark a condition never before realized in the highways of Andover. Yet this man has been practically idle because of a personal difference with the Board chairman.

By a vote of three to two, such action as has been taken this year has resulted in increased salaries for practically all of the employees, and a devotion of most of their time to a discussion of the merits of various baseball teams who might wish to have dates arranged for contests on the playstead, and other like important matters. From week to week the question of engaging a superintendent for another year has been postponed. Final action appears to have been taken in this connection at the meeting on Wednesday evening, when by the votes of Chairman Rhodes, Messrs. McTernan and Hodgkins, the town obligated itself to pay the salary of Supt. Wood until the close of his year's contract in May, with the understanding that he should leave his position at once. The result of this action is that the town is without a highway superintendent, and the policy of waiting would appear to be determined for a still further period.

Some day the town will arouse itself and realize what is meant by such control of an important department as now obtains in connection with the Public Works of Andover.

Editorial Cinders

In this age of "boosting," how easy it is for a lot of people to indulge in busting. One of our important industries in Andover isn't getting its share of business because so many people have been so ready to "hammer" where they might better have devoted their energies to hurrahing. We refer to the Tyer Rubber Company, who are not developing their automobile tire business as rapidly as should be the case, particularly from the local standpoint. Every man who does business in Andover should use Tyer tires in every possible need, and it has been estimated that if the automobilists within ten miles of the Tyer Rubber Company would purchase Tyer tires, they would go a long way toward keeping running the factory which has been so fully equipped and so well established for this business. This ten-mile limit is the natural beneficiary of every bit of labor performed in the Tyer factory, and nothing could be more natural than for genuine reciprocity between the men who are to benefit by the spending of money by the operatives in the factory, and the users of Tyer tires. There is a lot of "boosting" to be done in this world not directly associated with big cities or with great natural resources. We can find many opportunities right at our doors, and some of them are beginning to knock pretty loudly for consideration.

For at least one day next summer, Andover people ought to make their plans to go to the Isle of Shoals. We don't know whether Mr. Harrington, who is to run the principal hotel at that section again, could care for all those who might go under these conditions or not. Certainly it would be most natural for summer saunterers to patronize a local hotel man, especially where the success of a previous season has made a promise for another year so attractive as it is in the case of our own townsman, who is making his plans to again carry on during the coming summer, the Oceanic House at the Isle of Shoals.

The Townsman agreed to give Chairman Rhodes every opportunity to make good, and that agreement still holds good, but the town can ill afford to overlook the methods that are now being followed, which promise to leave Andover at the close of this year in the most serious situation it has been within the memory of the present generation, and a condition for which a continued maladministration of this department will be largely responsible.

The framework for the new memorial gateway at Phillips Academy carries a promise of a very imposing entrance to the main campus of that institution. It is bound to be architecturally effective because of the fact that its designer is Mr. Guy Lowell, and it would seem to promise just the touch needed to give a new and inviting dignity to the already beautiful "Andover Hill."

Building business starts very slowly in Andover this spring, but there are suggested a number of new structures which promise a fairly active season for most of the local mechanics. Reports from the Smith & Dove Company indicate that the management there have not failed in the emergency which seemed to come to them with the enactment of the new tariff, for again things are busy, and full time and large product are reported to be the order of the day. This same condition is also said to be true in connection with the work at the Marland Mills, and in these times of rather serious depression in many lines, Andover appears to be peculiarly fortunate in the success of its important industries.

It is doubtful if very many of the Phillips Academy boys go to the Mexican war, but their surplus energy can be very effectively displayed, and their patriotism very properly enthused by such demonstrations as that of Wednesday evening, which led them to carry on a parade through the principal streets of the town, in the true spirit of young American manhood.

There is a pretty well founded belief that the two chief trouble makers of the Board of Public Works are desirous of having two heads to the one department. We trust the town is watching developments in this organization entrusted with the expenditure of over $50,000 this year.

Gentlemen's Night

The Andover Mothers' club held a gentlemen's night in Puncture Hall on Monday evening. The affair proved one of the most successful in years.

An address of welcome by Mrs. Bernard M. Allen, president of the club, opened the evening. A violin solo by Blanchard Ralph, accompanied on the piano by Miss Gladys Ralph, was then rendered. William A. Allen gave selections on the Edison Disc machine.

The principal feature of the evening was the "Family Album," in charge of Mrs. M. S. McCurdy, "Mrs. Jerusha Pease." This consisted of many poses as follows:

Mother	Mrs. David Lindsay
Father	Mrs. Frank Valentine
Baby	Mrs. Alex. Crockett
Myself as a girl—seven years old
Myself when I met Eben	Mrs. William Burke
Eben	Mrs. William Brown
Myself as a Bride	Mrs. George Carter
Twins	Mrs. E. C. Cole
Parson	Mrs. James Calkins
Parson's wife	Mrs. Walter Buxton
Roy, parson's son	Mrs. Walter Cheever
Sister Jane Higgs	Mrs. James Feeney
Sister Jane's husband	Mrs. Ralph Manning
Sophia	Mrs. Joseph Fellow
Anna Lisa	Mrs. John Stick
Aunt Mchitable	Mrs. Elmer Philbrick
Queen Victoria	Mrs. Parmenas Partridge
Village beauty	Mrs. John Adams
Grandma Hobbs	Mrs. Thomas Rhodes
Grandpa Hobbs	Mrs. Charles Francis
Liberty	Mrs. Thomas Platt
	Mrs. George Holt
	Mrs. Charles Francis

The album was closed by all singing America. Auld Lang Syne was sung afterwards. A collation was served in charge of Mrs. Thomas Platt.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. James Feeney, chairman; Mrs. Parmenas Partridge, Mrs. Walter Buxton, Mrs. Bernard M. Allen.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Annual Dance of K. of C. Held in Town Hall

The ninth annual ball of Andover Council, No. 1078, Knights of Columbus, was held in the town hall last Friday evening and proved a very successful event in every way.

The hall presented a very attractive appearance, the decorations being the most elaborate ever attempted, and the color schemes blended harmoniously. From a canopy of blue and white in the center streamers of the same color extended to the side, while myriads of colored lights and Japanese lanterns added to the general effect. The stage was very attractive; columns of white supported arches of colored lights, and from the central arch K. of C. was suspended, made up of tiny lights of pale red and green.

Lattice work of white with garlands of evergreens screened off the stage. At the rear of the balcony was a large maltese cross of colored lights, while on the left of the stage a cosy corner presented a most inviting appearance. From 8 to 9 o'clock Millington's orchestra rendered a very pleasing concert of popular and classical airs.

The grand march was led by James Daly and Miss Alice Weiss, followed by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mahoney, John H. McDonald and Miss Bessie Gailey, Francis Maroney and Miss Rachel Maquire, Bernard McDonald and Miss Josephine Mawn, John Driscoll and Miss Bell Bowman, Thomas Kyle and Miss Loretta Maquire, Alexander Dudley and Miss Josephine Manning.

The committee of arrangements comprised: Bernard L. McDonald, chairman; James F. Welch, secretary; Patrick J. Carroll, Walter V. Donovan, John J. Driscoll, Timothy J. Mahoney, Francis Maroney, John H. McDonald, Frank J. Mooney, Walter J. Morrissey.

The officials were: Grand conductor, James W. Daley; assistant grand conductor, John F. Sweeney; floor director, Walter J. Morrissey; assistant floor director, James F. Welch; aids, Michael J. Brennan, David S. Burns, John C. Collins, William C. Crowley, Michael F. Donovan, Alexander J. Dudley, Jas. Green, William L. McDonald, Peter J. O'Connor, John Shattuck.

Reception committee: Dr. John J. Daly, Patrick J. Dwyer, Timothy J. Mahoney, John H. McDonald, John Sweeney.

Among those present were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wyllie, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Maroney.

K. O. K. A. Play

Last evening the K. O. K. A. of the South church presented a farce entitled "A Close Shave," before a large audience. The boys took their parts well, Everett Collins, Judson Dean, John Erving and William Holden excelling.

A program consisting of a reading by Douglas Crawford, solos by Miss Mabel Carter and selections on the victrola was rendered in a very pleasing manner.

Ice cream, cake and candy were on sale.

The cast:
Tosor, a barber John Converse
McGinnis, his assistant Everett Collins
Job, a colored apprentice Judson Dean
Crusty, a rich old gentleman Byron Morrill
Heavy-face, a hypochondriac John Erving
Simper a dude William Holden

Operetta by Choir Boys

"The Brownies' Whispers," an operetta in two acts, will be given in the town hall on Tuesday evening, May 26, by the boys of Christ church choir. There will be a limited number of reserved seats at 75 cents each, and tickets of admission will be sold at 50 cents each.

The Brownies in their frocks and dances, together with their songs, will be very entertaining to those who attend the operetta.

The flowers taking part in the operetta are Daisies, Roses, Lilies, Pansies, and Sweet Peas. In their pretty costumes, which were designed by H. Winthrop Peirce, they will be very attractive, and their songs and dances will add a great deal of pleasure to the performance.

Raindrops in dainty costumes and Sunbeams in brighter colors will also dance and sing. There will also be a gardener and his daughter in the cast.

The operetta will be given under the direction of B. Frank Michelsen.

Andover Guild Notes

Last Tuesday night the girls of the basketball teams entertained their coach, Miss Armstrong. After presenting her with a group picture of themselves as a mark of their appreciation, they played games and indulged in ice cream and cake, thus closing a very delightful evening.

Yesterday afternoon the Mothers' club had a final meeting. Miss Lucy Abbott gave a very practical talk and answered many questions. Tea was served and a social hour enjoyed.

Tonight the boys' basketball team gives a dance in the Guild gymnasium, the proceeds to go toward team equipment. A large attendance, therefore, is desired.

Miss Anna B. Abbott did not forget to call at her former place of service, and she was very welcome.

Tomorrow afternoon the rummage sale committee, Mrs. Cannon, chairman, will hold a final sale at the Guild.

Annual Contest Results in All Three Prizes for Seniors

Puncture Hall was filled to its utmost capacity last Friday evening when the fifteenth annual competition for the J. W. Barnard prizes was held. The essays were all well written and well delivered, as well as being interesting and instructive. The senior class, however, carried away all the prizes. The first prize of $20 was awarded to Arthur Rand Lewis, "14 'Playing the Game';" the second, $12, to Katherine Annette Berry, "Public Schools in England," and the third, $8, to Hester Elizabeth Newman, "Florence Nightingale."

The subject, "Playing the Game" was splendidly handled by Mr. Lewis, who traced the great American game of baseball from the time a boy starts, when he can barely hold a ball in his baby hands, till its development into a commercial problem of dollars and cents. This is a very pertinent subject and proved very interesting, due to the bright, witty way in which it was given.

Miss Berry chose the apparently very dry subject, "Public Schools in England," and wrote a very fine essay. She took the two preparatory schools of Winchester and Eton and traced their history. As Winchester was the oldest she took that one in detail and told about its customs and manners, its influence on the student and how it differed from our American schools.

The "Story of Florence Nightingale," no matter how many times it is told, is always of interest and value. Nearly everyone knows who she was, but a great many do not realize the great work she undertook and the wonderful good she accomplished. This Miss Newman showed in her essay.

"Heroes of the Wireless," discussing probably the greatest invention of the age, was ably dealt with by Fred Porter Sampson, '15. Mr. Sampson showed that the hero of the seas was no longer the captain, but the wireless operator. In the course of his essay he mentioned several of the great ocean disasters which occurred recently and proved his point, that the wireless operator stayed at his post the longest and by so doing was the means of saving more lives than anyone else, giving up his own at the same time.

Elizabeth Carrol Abbott in her essay on "Dan Crawford in Africa," told of the work this missionary was doing and the awful sacrifice he was making for the cause of humanity and Christianity.

On the subject, "The Making of a Railroad," Albert Everett Curtis, '15, traced the development of a railroad from its incorporation until it was built and a new country was opened to the outside world.

THE SHERMAN STUDIO

An Appeal from the A. V. I. S.

The A. V. I. S. confronts a complication in relation to the removal of rubbish by the town teams, as unexpectedly, the town council informs the Selectmen that they have no authority to approve the bills for this work on the part of men or horses, and without such approval the bills cannot be paid by the town treasurer, as no money has been voted by the town for this specific purpose.

Consequently after two days' work, and an expense of over fifty dollars, the officers of the Improvement Society have felt obliged to call off the teams until an appeal can be made to the public-spirited citizens for help.

The work has received the hearty approval of everyone; it is something which the town should do every year; and without doubt provision will be made for such collection at the next annual meeting.

But we cannot wait for that. We have promised to do it this year. Will not the men and women of Andover help us to keep our promises? As soon as we are assured that they will do so, collections will be resumed.

Because of the small annual membership fee, the finances of the society will not permit us to do this work alone.

Pledges or money may be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, 70 Main street, or to Miss Lincoln, Summer street. Small sums as well as large will be gratefully received.

Pledges have been received as follows:

Charles H. Forbes	5.00

A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Postmaster McDonald's Father and Mother Observe Their 50th Wedding Anniversary This Week

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald observed the golden anniversary of their marriage Tuesday at their home on Lupin road. Before her marriage, Mrs. McDonald was Miss Catherine Nelson, from St. John, New Brunswick. They were married April 21, 1864, and have had nine children, all of whom are living, and all were present at the anniversary festivities, together with three grand children.

Mr. McDonald was born in Ireland and came to America when he was six years of age. He served two years and a half in the Civil war, enlisting from Lawrence but being transferred to Co. K 40th New York volunteers which was attached to the famous Mozart regiment. He served in the Peninsular campaign and was wounded in the second battle of Bull Run. After being treated in a field hospital he was removed to a hospital in Philadelphia where he lay between life and death for several weeks, but he finally recovered.

A mass was celebrated at St. Augustine's church in the morning by Rev. Jas. A. McDonald, O. S. A., at which a number of priests from Lawrence assisted Rev. Frederick S. Riordan and Rev. William F. Donovan of Andover. These included Rev. Daniel J. O'Mahoney, Rev. Timothy F. Herlihy, Rev. Richard A. Gleason, Rev. John A. Hogan and Rev. C. G. Medina.

Mr. McDonald belongs to the Mozart organization and is a member of Gen. William F. Bartlett post, 99, G. A. R.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McDonald enjoy good health.

The Wearing of the Rose

The new slogan, "Wear a Rose," issues from the headquarters of the Massachusetts anti-suffragists. Everybody who plans to visit Boston on that day and who disapproves of suffrage is urged to wear a rose on May 2, the day of the suffrage parade. The "antis" declare they will have a big army of rose-wearers on that day.

Thousands of real and artificial roses will be sold at various points throughout the city, to be called "Anti-Suffrage Rose Shops." The roses will be sold for whatever they will bring, and if one cares to give nothing, they will be given away.

Brigades of boys will carry baskets filled with roses along the course of the parade, and at the anti-suffrage headquarters in the Kensington Building, and at the "Anti-Suffrage Campaign Shop" at 15 Milk street the rose-boys and the rose-sellers will make their headquarters.

A display of roses will be a feature also of the anti-suffrage mass-meeting, which is to be held in Faneuil Hall on the night of April 28.

Mrs. John Baleh of the State Executive Committee, who originated the plan, and devised the unique advertising campaign of the mysterious cards, says:

"We intend the wearing of the rose to signify disapproval of the suffrage principles, not especially of the parade. The parade, of course, is merely spectacular, and will appeal to sensible men and women in the same way that does red fire, and similar political clap-trap. It can have no real weight and no importance."

"Our distinguishing color is rose, and therefore we have chosen the rose for our anti-suffrage protest. Every man, woman and child is urged to wear a rose on that day to show disapproval, and we shall have on hand a big supply of the buds and flowers which will be disposed of for as little or as much as they'll bring."

WEDDINGS

ARUNDALE—ERVING

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized last Tuesday evening, April 21, in the Stone Chapel, on Andover Hill, when Miss Fannie Joanna Erving, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Erving of this town, became the bride of Henry Barnes Arundale of South Manchester, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Arundale of Lawrence.

The ceremony took place at eight o'clock, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple. The chapel was prettily decorated for the event, the altar being banked with a profusion of palms, azaleas, lilac and wisteria. While the guests were assembling, Carl F. Platt, teacher of Phillips Academy rendered a program of organ selections, which gave place to the wedding march, as the bridal party entered the church and proceeded to the altar where they were met by the groom, and the officiating clergyman, Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church. The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Winfield B. Knowlton of Lawrence, as best man.

The bride made a charming picture in her beautiful gown, cut en train, of white crepe meteor, draped over white satin, and trimmed with duchesse lace and pearl ornaments. Her large shower bouquet was composed of lilies of the valley, while her veil was fastened with orange blossoms. She was escorted by her father, and preceded by her two sisters, Miss Eva Abbott Erving and Miss Maudie Louise Erving, as bridesmaids, and Marjorie Knowlton, niece of the groom, as flower girl. The bridesmaids wore charming gowns of pink crepe de chine and silk lace over silk, and carried large bouquets of Killarney roses, while the flower girl, who so prettily did honor to the bride, wore French embroidered batiste, over pink silk, and carried a basket of rosebuds and sweet peas. The delicate rose shades in the gowns and flowers made a most pleasing background for the pure white of the bride's array. The ushers who assisted were John M. Erving, brother of the bride, and three classmates of the groom, Arthur C. Varnum of Lowell, Dr. Blaine W. Morgan of Malden, and Everett P. Merrow of Methuen. The double ring service was used, the bride being given away by her father.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the bride's home, 59 Salem street, at which the young couple, standing beneath a bower of palms, received the congratulations of their relatives and a few invited friends. They were assisted in receiving by the small flower girl, and Mr. and Mrs. Erving and Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Arundale. Refreshments were served by Caterer Hinton, the decorations in the dining-room being tulips and sweet peas. Guests were present from Andover, Lawrence, Lowell, Medford, Malden, Lynn, Woburn, Buffalo, N. Y., Los Angeles, Calif., New York City, Montreal, and Sherbrooke, Quebec. Mr. and Mrs. Arundale left at 10.30 o'clock for an extended wedding trip after which they will be at home at 6 Lilly street, South Manchester, Conn.

The bride, who has spent nearly all of her life here, and is a graduate of Abbot Academy, is well known in Andover, and has a large circle of friends and acquaintances. For several years past she has filled a responsible position in the office of Phillips Academy, and has been prominent in social and church activities in the town.

The groom, whose home was formerly in Lawrence, is a graduate of the Lawrence High School, and also of Lowell Textile School. He is at present principal of a Textile School in South Manchester, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. Arundale were the recipients of many wedding gifts, including silver, cut glass, china, linen, furniture and pictures. The bride's gift from the groom was a pearl and diamond pendant, while her gift to him was a gold bar watch-chain.

Daughter of Judge Bell Married

There was a pretty wedding on Thursday at the home of Hon. and Mrs. Chas. U. Bell of Bartlett street, when their daughter, Miss Helen P. Bell became the bride of Rev. George H. Driver of Exeter, N. H. The ceremony was performed at noon by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, minister of the South church. The couple were attended by Miss Alice L. Bell, sister of the bride, as bride's maid, and Harold Driver, brother of the groom, as best man. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the couple were present.

Mr. Driver is pastor of the First Congregational church of Exeter. He is a graduate of Amherst college and of Yale Divinity school where he was awarded the Hooker Fellowship which entitled him to two years abroad when he studied in Palestine and Germany.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white satin, trimmed with old family Honiton lace and wore her mother's wedding veil.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Driver will reside in Exeter.

Natural History Society Meeting

The annual meeting of the Andover Natural History Society was held in the school committee rooms Tuesday. Reports of the year's work were made which showed that the society had had an active and prosperous year. The election of officers resulted in the choice of Omar P. Chase, president; Mrs. Wm. G. Goldsmith, vice-president; Jonathan Holt, secretary.

Rev. W. E. Lombard addressed the meeting on the advisability of a game sanctuary, and a committee consisting of Mr. Lombard and Edwin T. Brewster was appointed to look into the matter and report at a later meeting.

SUPT. WOOD DISMISSED

Board of Public Works Ends His Services, but Continues Pay Till May 26

The Board of Public Works held a stormy session Wednesday evening and by a vote of three to two terminated the contract of George W. Wood as superintendent. This decision of the Board has been expected for some time, as the three members who have opposed Mr. Wood for a long time have tried to get the superintendent to resign. They were unsuccessful in this and at the meeting Wednesday, he was relieved of his position to take effect immediately.

Mr. Wood came to Andover the latter part of May, 1913, and as there is still more than a month of his contract time to run, the Board will pay him his salary in full.

An attempt to appoint a successor was not successful. The motion of one member to make the chairman a committee of one to make a temporary appointment failed, being vigorously opposed by the minority of members, as was also the motion to place Frank L. Cole head of the combined departments at a salary of $2000 per annum. The whole matter was deferred to an adjourned meeting to be held this evening.

It is reported that the intention of the Board is to go back to the old system of joint supervision, Thomas O'Brien appearing before the members as a candidate for Highway Surveyor.

The action of the Board in summarily dismissing Mr. Wood is the subject of much adverse criticism among the citizens of the town, the belief being that he ought to have been given a year with a free hand, unhampered by dictation from any member of board. In this way the citizens would have been able to see whether Mr. Wood could make good or not.

Mr. Wood has as yet received no official notification from the secretary of the board. The departments were assigned as follows: Water, Lewis T. Hardy; Sewer, Barnett Rogers; Parks and Playsteads, Thomas E. Rhodes; Andrew B. McTernan, Willis B. Hodgkins.

McDOUGALL'S MUSINGS

Home Rule for Ireland, No. 5

If the commanders of the warships which have been ordered to the Gulf of Mexico to compel Huerta to salute our flag had resigned when they got that order and said that the Monroe doctrine was a humbug, a delusion, and a snare, what answer would our Secretary of War and President Wilson have given to that flat refusal to obey orders. Well, that is exactly what some of the aristocratic British officers did.

The question is not whether Ulster is right or wrong as to Home Rule for Ireland. The government under whose flag they enlisted have by the House of Commons, the mouth-piece of the people of Ireland, Scotland, and England, said that Home Rule for Ireland was right. The House of Commons and the majority of the British people may be mistaken and the minority, as minorities often are, in the right.

Mr. Asquith is now legally Secretary of War, having resigned his seat as member for East Fife, and been re-elected without anyone contesting the seat with him and says that he is to carry out the wishes of the electors and insist on doing away with the abomination of plural voting, the dis-establishment of the Episcopal church in Wales, and Home Rule for Ireland. He is quoted as saying that he will not talk politics with the officers of the Army; neither will he allow them to talk politics to him. No man can tell what the next move of the Tories may be. They are good fighters, as many stupid people are, and like our standpat friends, don't know when they are beat. The Tories by their selfish treatment of this country made what is called our Revolutionary War inevitable. George Washington had no idea of giving up his allegiance to the old country until driven to it by an almost imbecile English King, and a few ignorant Tories who insisted on America paying them taxes as they saw fit.

The next two months will decide the fate of this Home Rule for Ireland question. John Redmond and his followers have behaved well during all the bitter discussions and deserve to win. In the House of Commons on the last division on the Bill the "O'Brienites," or extreme Home Rulers, did not vote and the usual majority of about one hundred was down to eighty, which delighted the Tories. These extreme Home Rulers were offended at Redmond giving in a way to the Ulster party. It may be that Home Rule is in more danger from its friends than it is from its enemies.

In a former letter, I said that the Irish people generally were too much in the habit of looking to the English government for everything and at the same time hating it with a bitter hatred, and that the Scottish people did not look to the government but looked to themselves and supposed that England and all her possessions belonged to them through their union with her. There are thousands of Scotch boys and girls preparing for the Civil Service examinations yet. They have the Scotch egotism so strongly in their blood that they think they are not getting any favor from the government, but doing the government a great favor by entering into her employment. There are also hundreds of wealthy young Scottish men who are doing their utmost to pass the trying and difficult Civil Service examination for India. These young men are not looking to the government to help them but they are conceited enough to think that they are helping the government.

There are so many things about this Irish question, the Land Laws, or rather want of Laws, as to land tenure; the potato disease in 1847; the continual unrest and agitation for Home Rule; the want of a middle class as in England and Scotland; to unite the so-called gentry with the starving peasantry; the absentee landlords; and several other questions must be taken into account when studying this Home Rule for Ireland question.

My next musing will be about the Irish peasantry and the absurd notions they had about tenant rights, etc. I may be spared to write about the three months I enjoyed in Ireland, long ago. Meantime, I hope that Mr. Asquith will let the Tories know that he is the Prime Minister, i.e., chief servant, of England, determined to obey the will of the electors. I don't know if he knows much about military affairs, but he has a thing that they call common sense which is always useful and may know what the Duke of Wellington said about a soldier's duty, namely, to obey his marching orders.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE THEATRES

BOSTON THEATRES

PARK

The coming week's attraction at the Park Theatre, should exert a wide appeal among that class of playgoers who relish a real dramatic novelty. Commencing Monday evening, April 27th, Joseph Brooks will present Mabel and Edith Taliaferro in Rachel Crothers' refreshing comedy "Young Wisdom." At least to the present generation of playgoers the idea of two sisters appearing together as co-stars in a dramatic offering is unique.

The play is in three acts and presents a small-town household such as one might find anywhere. Mabel and Edith Taliaferro appear as sisters in the play. Mr. Brooks has surrounded them with an exceptionally strong supporting company. The cast includes Richard Sterling, Hayward Ginn, Aubrey Beattie, Regan Hughton, Mabel Bert, Junius Matthews and Louis LeBey. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday. The engagement will be a limited one.

CORT

Kitty Gordon in "Pretty Mrs. Smith" at the Cort Theatre in Boston is providing one of the brightest and jolliest and best entertainments of the season, and the star and the play have caught on in unmistakable fashion. The public has taken enthusiastically to this comedy with music, for it is just the sort of thing that tickles popular fancy. It is filled with merriment and gaiety, with wit and humor, and it has pretty music and engaging scenic effects. "Pretty Mrs. Smith" is distinctly and emphatically for all who enjoy high class, lively, snappy comedy, a play whose fun is provided by ladies and gentlemen in amazing situations and droll complications.

PLYMOUTH

When "Under Cover," Selwyn and Company's newest and sensational success, enters upon the nineteenth week of its engagement at the Plymouth theatre, Boston, on next Monday night, it will equal the phenomenal run scored by "Disraeli" at the same theatre last season. The piece will not be seen in any other city this season. This announcement is being repeatedly made in the hope that out-of-town playgoers, who have not yet seen it, will avail themselves of the present opportunity. Mail orders will be given prompt and accurate attention. Through the kindness of the producers and Manager Wright of the Plymouth theatre, the regular matinee performance on next Thursday afternoon, April 30th, will be given in aid of the poor children of Boston. On next Monday afternoon a special performance will be given by the famous Irish Players, who will appear in three plays new to Boston. This is the first and only appearance this season of this world-famed organization. Seats are now selling at the regular Plymouth theatre prices, 50 cents to $2.00.

TREMONT TEMPLE

"Quo Vadis" George Kleins' remarkable photo drama, adapted from the universally read novel of this name, on next Monday enters upon the second week of its engagement at the Tremont Temple, Boston. The production, which is already familiar to many, is the same that scored a big hit in Boston last season when it was presented for an entire summer at the Tremont theatre. The burning of Rome reveals the capacity of the pictures to indicate spectacle. Through streets swept by smoke and flame rushed panic stricken people. Houses tottered and crumbled about them as the flames advanced relentlessly. The later views of the charred and ruined buildings added their effectiveness to the scenes. Another remarkable picture is the lion scene in the Arena, when the Christian martyrs, men, women and children are brutally driven into the open after which the lions are turned in upon them. Daily matinees are given at a popular scale of prices.

BOSTON

Dear to the hearts of millions of the country over, the grand old play of them all comes back to the Boston theatre for a limited engagement beginning Monday night, April 27th. This is the twenty-eighth season of "The Old Homestead." The cast is practically the same as last season. In fact, the management of the company believes in keeping the same players that made the early successes of "The Old Homestead" as intact as possible. Some of the company have been in the cast for many years. Mr. Frank Thompson, son of Mr. Denman Thompson, for many years has had the management and direction of the grand old play. His attention and detail accounts in no small way for the merited success of this beautiful idyl of New England.

During the Boston theatre engagement of "The Old Homestead" the new scale of popular prices will prevail. Tickets for the evening performances and the Saturday matinee can be purchased for 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents, and $1.00. Bargain matinees will be given on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays—all seats for these performances selling for 25 cents and 50 cents. Patrons are invited to either come to the box office and make their reservations or, if that is not convenient, orders by mail or telephone will be accepted. The Boston Theatre telephone is Oxford 722.

SCOLLAY SQUARE OLYMPIA

The Scollay Square Olympia, Boston's newest and most magnificent vaudeville theatre, which is quickly identified as the home of the $50,000 organ and the high class quality of its entertainment, has established itself as the leading amusement centre in Boston. The theatre is located in Scollay Square, only a few steps from Tremont Street, and offers each week a bill comprising vaudeville and feature photo-plays that runs approximately, without a repeat, four hours. For the week of May 4th the management has secured "Tess of the Storm Country," the most stirring photo production made. The management is also offering at their down town house, Gordon's Olympia on Washington Street, opposite Boylston Street, for the first three days of the same week, "Judith of Bethulia," the newest photo-play produced and presented in four parts. Remember that the prices at these playhouses are popular and there is always something doing from 9.30 in the morning until 10.30 at night. Both theatres give an excellent Sunday night concert starting at 7 and concluding at 10.30 without a repeat.

HOLLIS STREET

On Monday night at the Hollis Street theatre, Robert Graves will present for the first time to a Boston audience "The Reformers," with Donald Meek as the featured member of a selected cast of New York players.

"The Reformers" is a new comedy in three acts by John Cumberland. The scene is laid in a town in New Jersey within commuting distance of New York City, and the action of the play concerns the efforts of an energetic woman, who aspires to the social leadership of the community, to have her husband accept the nomination for mayor by the reform party. Her husband, however, who is known as Archibald Wilkins Wayne, is not at all inclined to fall in with his wife's plans, being a decidedly mild-mannered individual, very small in stature, and whose chief disapposition consists of attending to his pany beds and keeping his lawn in good order. Mrs. Wayne has the hearty support in her endeavors to have her husband elected, of many of his men friends, mostly members of the country club, who, though representing the conservative and exclusive element of the town, were not averse to indulging in a little gaiety away from home. The attendant mix-ups furnish abundant opportunities for exceedingly laughable situations.

Yankton College

The recent visit of Professor Durand of Yankton College, South Dakota, and his address before the Women's Union of the South church, will be pleasantly recalled by those who heard him. While stopping over at Oberlin, on his way home a few days ago, he was shocked to hear that one of the college buildings—the girls' dormitory—had been burned to the ground, a total and serious loss, although all the students escaped with their lives. This new emergency has suggested that now is just the opportunity for Andover, which in the time of Joseph Ward was specially interested in the founding of Yankton, to send along some addition to the help that most useful institution needs so much. The pastor of the South church has arranged for contributions to be made—in separate envelopes—in the weekly offering of next Sunday morning. If more convenient, gifts for this object may be sent to Mr. Carpenter, 28 Morton street, during the following week.

A New Andover Book

It has just been added to the Memorial Hall Library, and it surely belongs there, for the librarian wrote it! Although different in scene and subject from Miss Brown's previous publications—"The Four Gordons" and "Uncle David's Boys"—it is like them a suitable book for children to read. It is not a novel for the grown-ups, it is not a love story, it is not a sensational blood-and-thunder tale; far better than that, it is a book for children, and the children will like it. The title is "When Max came." Max was a son of American parents, who had always lived in foreign lands, until he "came" to spend the summer with his cousins in Maine—one can almost locate the lake and the river and the hills where "Max came." It weaves in much of interest as to life and travel in the eastern world, as well as of children's vacation adventure "way down in the State of Maine." There is indeed a striking and mysterious incident or two near the end, but whether they are introduced as a clever bit of satire on the popular novel, or whether they will be explained in some future sequel, when Max comes again to America, the reader must judge! X.Y.Z.

Exhibition of Lithographs

There will be an exhibition at the John-Esther Gallery, tomorrow and next Saturday, from two to five o'clock, a group of twelve lithographs by Joseph Pennell. These are shown through the courtesy of Frederick Keppel and Company, New York, from whom the pictures may be obtained.

Mr. Pennell is widely known for his etchings, including the famous series of New York sky scrapers, and for the drawings illustrating Mrs. Pennell's descriptions of his travels, as well as many other books. He has in recent years made use of lithography, especially in depicting what he calls the Wonder of Work, always a subject of great interest to him. These may be said to have culminated in the Panama pictures, a set of which was purchased by the Uffizi Gallery in Florence. Shortly after this, Mr. Pennell sent his friend, the late Mr. Keppel, a most amusing note with a sketch representing the pictures borne in triumph through the streets of Florence like the Cimabue Madonna.

The series on exhibition is of Grecian temples, and will be an interesting study because of the present perfection of an ancient process. Mr. Pennell makes his drawing with crayon on prepared paper directly from the scene. This is transferred to the chemically treated stone from which it is printed. An effort will be made to suggest the scope of the artist's work by showing many of the books which he has illustrated, and such reproductions of etchings and lithographs as are available. Visitors are invited to take time to look over the books carefully in order to appreciate the skill and versatility of this interesting American artist.

Loans have already been made by the Memorial Hall Library, Phillips Academy Library, Lawrence City Library, Salem Athenaeum, Mr. Cecil K. Bancroft, Mrs. T. D. Thomson, Mrs. W. B. Graves, and Miss Mary Byers Smith.

Dance of Telephone Girls

The first annual dance by the telephone operators was held Wednesday evening in the town hall. It was a new idea in Andover but it was a decided success. The hall was prettily decorated and a good number were present. The Columbian orchestra furnished the music. The officers in charge were as follows:

Floor directors, Misses Mabel Harrigan, Mary Sweeney, Katherine Sweeney, Marion Piper, Esther Clafin, Nellie Reynolds; committees, Misses Annie Burns, Linda Clinton, Mary Sweeney, Katherine Moynihan.

Among those present were the following: Misses Mary Maroney, Belle Bowman, Annie Sweeney, Florence Soutar, Katherine Sweeney, Margaret Sweeney, Esther Clafin, Marion Piper, Harriet McCoubrie, Nellie Mahoney, Gretta Mahoney, Regina Clark, Hazel Chickens, Irene Harrigan, Nellie Fitzgerald, Doris Piper, Ruth Sleath, Molly Cronin, Linda Clinton.

Messrs. Francis Geddry, John Boulger, Frederick Swales, Joseph Parson, William Welch, John Higgins, Dr. Wm. METHUEN

Members of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Congregational, Baptist, and Methodist churches of Methuen attended the annual convention in Haverhill Monday.

Monday evening Hope Lodge, I. O. O. F. met in their lodge rooms at 7.30 o'clock. The members are making arrangements for the observance of the anniversary of the Odd Fellowship entertainment in the hall under the auspices of the local lodge.

Chief of Police Nimmo and Inspector Woodcock of Lawrence made a search for stolen bicycles at Canobie Heights Sunday and succeeded in recovering seven wheels and a canoe, which had been missing from Harris' pond for several weeks. The bicycles were found at the homes of James Duffy and Armond Roberts. The bicycles belong to different Lawrence parties, while the canoe is the property of G. A. Schmidt of Lawrence. Duffy is aged 35 and Roberts is 13. They will be arraigned in Lawrence later this week.

The Methuen Dramatic club met at the Y. M. C. A. rooms Monday evening and decided to present "The Private Secretary," at Nevins Memorial hall on Friday evening, May 15. The comedy is in three acts and will be presented by some of the best talent in Methuen. It is planned to have dancing follow the presentation of the drama. At the meeting of the club Monday evening Walter S. Adams, sub-master of the Methuen High school was elected president. "The Private Secretary" was one of Hawtry's biggest hits.

Monday evening the Methuen Historical society met in their rooms in the old Waldo house on Lawrence street. Following the business Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Andover Academy gave an illustrated lecture before the members, taking for his subject "China." He has recently spent a year in the east and while he was there he met Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Chinese republic, and many former Andover students now influential in the Chinese government. Mr. Stearns proved an interesting speaker and showed many pictures of great interest to those present.

NORTH ANDOVER

The committee in charge of the rebuilding of the Merrimack grammar school held a meeting with Architect John Ashton of Lawrence last night to further discuss the plans and specifications. A call for bids on the work will be issued shortly.

There was a pleasant whist party, Monday evening, in Odd Fellows' hall. Prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies—1st, Mrs. A. M. Campbell, 50 points; 2nd, Mrs. Gilman, 54; consolation, Mrs. Frank Tisdale, 29. Gentlemen—1st, Mr. Chase, 54 points; 2d, William Butlerfield, 50; consolation, H. Dana Currier, 31.

Miss Alice M. Drew, music teacher, tendered her pupils an Easter party. Among the pupils who rendered musical numbers were Mary Kelley, Florence Redman, Doris Currier, Lily Metcalf, Anna Harraden, Dorothy Houghton, David Wallwork, Beth Hargraves, Edith Johnson, May Leach, May Bixby, Edith Shelburn, Mary Burke, Hazel Wooley, Mary McEvoy, Nora Reardon, and Dorothy Paul.

An unusually attractive May party is being arranged under the auspices of the Women's alliance of the North Parish Unitarian church. Two children's symphonies, entitled "A Jolly Sleigh Party," and "A Toy Symphony," are being rehearsed for the occasion. There will be some splendid music and the May pole dance will be given. The exact date for the affair has not been fixed yet.

LAWRENCE

Dr. R. Farquhar, Dr. Thomas W. Murphy, Frank Swindells, David Farr, and James Duncan spent the holiday at the Farquhar cottage, York Beach, Me.

A sale, supper and entertainment will be conducted Saturday evening by the members of the Girls' Friendly society of Grace Episcopal church, in the parish house on Garden street. Supper will be served from 5 o'clock until 7, and will be followed by the entertainment.

Colin T. Holm, industrial secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., was one of the speakers at the 27th annual conference of the paid officers of the Young Men's Christian Association of New England which was held Wednesday in Springfield. His subject was, "The Present Day Opportunity of the Young Men's Christian Association in the Field of Industrial Cooperation."

Miss Margaret Walworth and Mitchell Johnson gave a dinner Tuesday evening to the members of their bridal party. Those present were Miss Gertrude Porter, Miss Katherine Johnson, Miss Lillian Walworth, Miss Margaret Walworth; Messrs. David Dana Woodbury, Philip W. Johnson of Medford, Kimball G. Colby, Albion G. Peirce, Philip G. Carleton, George H. Gage, Joseph Walworth and Mitchell Johnson.

Olive Lovejoy Hardy, '15, took her audience with her, just as Col. Goethals took her through the Panama Canal zone. Her subject was, "A Day with Col. Goethals." This subject proved of interest to everyone, as it is a very live topic and Miss Hardy treated it well.

Another very pertinent subject was "Radium—A Key to Future Power." Harry Vincent English, '14, in his essay told what radium is, where it is found, in what quantities, its price and what it is used for.

The committee to award the prizes was: Mrs. Bernard M. Allen, James H. Morris, and Cecil K. Bancroft, all of Andover.

The program follows:
School Chorus:
(a) "Welcome Sweet Springtime" Robertson
(b) "Selection from Il Trovatore" Verdi

Heroes of the Witches
Fred Porter Sampson, '15
Dan Crawford to Africa
Elizabeth Carol Abbott, '14

Easter Sale and Entertainment

The ladies of the South church held a successful sale in the vestries last Friday afternoon and evening, although the attendance was not what it might have been had not other interests called many in different directions.

Aprons of all sizes and kinds were displayed on a table presided over by Miss Ellen P. Richardson and Miss Sara Poor. Mrs. Herbert F. Chase, Mrs. Herbert Russell and Miss Lulu Hardy dispensed home-made candy of various kinds to purchasers, and Mrs. Bushnell and Mrs. Joseph H. Lowd had charge of the ice-cream and cake table.

From 5.30 to 7 a supper was served, consisting of salads, baked beans, and brown bread, rolls, pie, and coffee. Mrs. Frank Cole, Mrs. L. H. Eames, Mrs. F. H. Kendall and Miss Glidden constituted the supper committee, ably assisted by a corps of young people as waiters. At eight o'clock, a short entertainment was given, the program of which was as follows:

Concert by Nadeau Trio

The Nadeau Trio comprising Emanuel Ondrick, violinist, Oscar Nadeau, pianist, and Bedrich Vaska, violoncello, are to give a grand chamber concert at city hall, Lawrence, on Monday, April 27. This offering is a musical event of the season. Each artist of this world famous trio is a member of the faculty of the College of Applied Harmony, Boston, and they are unexcelled as interpreters of both classic and modern works, their range of tone-coloring being extraordinary. Each one is also a soloist of merit.

Oscar Nadeau, pianist of the Nadeau Trio, is the author of "Applied Harmony," and needs no introduction to the American public as a pianist and teacher. His system of construction is conceded by the foremost composers to be the only complete course of instruction from the composer's standpoint. He started an exploration of the violin technique on his own account, writing several cadenzas to famous concertos, such as Tchaikovsky, Beethoven and Brahms. He toured Europe with remarkable success, playing in Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Berlin, London, St. Petersburg, and other cities. He is now a resident of Boston.

Bedrich Vaska, cellist of the trio, has played under the great conductors of the world—Strauss, Colonne, Chevillard, etc., gaining recognition of such masters as Reger Goldmark.

Canoeing on the Shawheen will probably be more popular than ever this year. Already quite a number of enthusiasts are enjoying their favorite pastime and Parker's boat-houses are presenting a busy scene. It is generally conceded by all that the Shawheen is in many respects an ideal canoe resort.

Will Give Play

The local Good Templars will give "Tommy's Wife," a three-act comedy in Bradlee hall, Wednesday evening, April 29. "Tommy's Wife" is a high class comedy, brimming over with fun and humor. It was written especially for Wellesley College students and with it they made one of their most remarkable hits. It will be presented by the following exceptionally strong and well-balanced array of local talent.

Cast of characters: Thomas Pitman Carrothers, a promising young portrait painter, as yet unknown to fame, Herbert W. Ford; Rose Carrothers, his sister, Bessie May Skeels; Dick Grannis, Carrother's chum, in love with Rose, Alfred Lundgren; Patty Campbell, a student at the Broadway Dramatic School, Miss Emily Moody; Mrs. De Yorkburgh Smith, a wealthy society lady, Miss Minnie Shattuck; Sylvia, her daughter, "Young and Impressionable," Miss Izetta Fillebrown; Pierre Le Bouton, a French fencing master, Robert Williams; Edith Bronson, a friend of Rose, interested in charities, Mrs. Geo. Clemons.

The specialties between the acts will please everyone and they include a vaudeville act by the best boy singer in the town, which is sure to be a star feature. Ice cream will be on sale. Admission, Adults 20 cents, children under 12 years 15 cents.

Rev. Perry S. Neldon at the recent Methodist conference has been assigned to the church at West Quincy. During Rev. Mr. Neldon's pastorate in Ballardvale he has labored hard and has accomplished many results here for his church and community. He and his wife both made many friends while in our village and the prayers and best wishes follow them to their new field of labor. Rev. James King of Lynn, the new Methodist minister will enter upon his duties at once and will endeavor to continue the work so well begun and carried on by his predecessor.

CURIOUS PIPEFISH.

The Males Have Pockets in Which They Carry Their Young.

The kangaroo has always seemed to have the monopoly of that convenient way of carrying its babies in a pouch, but it has been discovered that a fish has the same useful receptacle, which it uses for the same purpose. The pipefish, as it is called from the length of its jaws, has a pocket on the under side of its body nearly half its length. It is found in the male species only and is the only part of its body which is unprotected by large flat plates, which take the place of scales in its protective armor.

If a pipefish is taken from the water and its little ones shaken out of the pouch back into the water they always seem either unable or disinclined to run away. But if the father is placed in the water again all the small fish immediately swim back into the pouch. These curious little creatures have prehensile tails, which they use to hold on to the seaweed to protect themselves from being carried away by the tide. The pipefish is similar to the small eel, being about a foot in length and an inch in thickness. But, unlike the eel, it has a very long jaw and the peculiar defensive armor already mentioned.—New York Sun.

Facts Versus Fancies.

Richard Le Gallienne was sympathizing with a young writer whose book of poetry had been refused by twelve publishers.

"Real lovers of poetry," said Mr. Le Gallienne, "are unfortunately becoming rare. Too many people nowadays are like the judge."

"This judge was recommended by a poetic friend to read Shelley. The great man of the law said he supposed he ought to read a little poetry, and, having heard so much of Shelley, he would try him."

"And what do you think of it?" said his friend to the judge after he had waded through a few pages of "Epipsy-chidion." "Isn't it beautiful?"

"Well, well—oh, yes. I dare say it is," said the judge. "But what I want to know is when are we going to get at the facts?"—Washington Star.

SHALL WOMEN VOTE?

WHY THEY SHOULD

Under this heading the Townsman will publish at regular intervals arguments prepared by the local organization in favor of equal suffrage. The column will also be open to communications for any others who may desire to contribute on this subject.

The Women of Massachusetts Want the Vote

1. Because—It is in the line of Progress—a natural step in the process of Evolution.
2. Because—In a democracy all persons not obviously disqualified should have a voice in the Government and sex constitutes logically no disqualification. Many arguments against Woman Suffrage resolve themselves into arguments against Democracy.
3. Because—Many women are taxpayers and "Taxation without Representation is Tyranny."
4. Because—Men and women being unlike the state needs the expression of their differing points of view.
5. Because—Women as home-makers and mothers need the ballot to ensure the best environment for their children.
6. Because—Women in gainful occupations outside the home need the ballot for their own protection.
7. Because—All women need the development that comes with larger responsibility and a wider sphere of action; and whatever tends to develop the individual woman is ultimately for the good of the race.
8. Because—Woman Suffrage is no longer a mere theory. Women already have full suffrage in nine states and the territory of Alaska, and results show that they exercise the right in the main wisely and to the benefit of the community.

The eight succeeding numbers of the Townsman will contain amplifications of these headings.

WHY THEY SHOULD NOT

Under this heading the Townsman will publish at regular intervals arguments prepared by the local organization opposed to equal suffrage. The column will also be open to communications from any others who may desire to contribute on this subject.

The Women of Massachusetts Do Not Want the Vote

1. Because—the movement is a backward step in the progress of civilization, in that it tends to efface natural differentiation of function, and to produce identity instead of division of labor.
2. Because—political power would militate against women's usefulness in the large field of public work. It is of the utmost importance that our sex should have no political ends to serve.
3. Because—taxation without representation may be tyrannical, but the vote does not guarantee representation.
4. Because—the State now has the advantage of the support of informed, public spirited women in all movements for the public welfare, and this influence is not cancelled by the influence of the uninformed, as long as women are without the ballot.
5. Because—it is the gravest weakness of this country at present to ignore the fact that life is not saved by politics but by principles and that principles are not taught by legislation but by precept and practice.
6. Because—Massachusetts, a non-suffrage State, is in the fore-front of legislation for the benefit of women in industry.
7. Because—the great advancement of woman in this last century—moral, intellectual, economic—has been made without the vote, and her greatest development in the future will be along lines apart from political interests represented by the ballot.
8. Because—although conditions are more favorable to women suffrage in the states where it has been adopted than in Massachusetts, impartial evidence shows it to be still in the stage of doubtful experiment.
